

So My Pain Can Be Heard

Never knew what to say
I always shied away
While others took
And laughed at me
Well, I waited for my day
Yeah, I waited for my day
When all the others they would pay

Do you know? Do you care?
Have you tried to understand?
What it's like to live on the fringe of life
I was born an awkward man
That is just who I am
I was born an awkward man

I wanted her, all of it
Her smile, her sweat, her tears
But rejection's pain is vengeance gained
As I wipe away my tears
And I cast away my fears
To make up for all these years

Do you know? Do you care?
Have you tried to understand?
What it's like to live on the edge of life
I was born an awkward man
That is just who I am
I was born an awkward man

So pain can be heard
I've made a plan
And I'll take my final stand
With a gun in my hand
NOW I'M IN COMMAND!!
And I'm coming after you

There's no turning back
I'm, on the attack
And today, today, I know I'll die.
